Title: Mentor, Mozilla Foundation

The vision of this mentorship program is to connect open leaders and increase collaboration and contributorship on open projects in our network. Mentors will play a vitalwi role supporting new leaders and facilitating connections within the network.

Description

A Mentor is a Mozilla community member who has:
- completed open leadership training in the past (Working Open Workshop or the Open Leadership Training Series)
- completed 1:1 project mentorship with Mozilla
- demonstrated an understanding and ability to work openly

Mentors will provide support and guidance to their assigned project leads as they go through open leadership training and learn to work openly on their projects. Mentors will gain valuable coaching skills and connections across the Mozilla and open source community.

Expectations

1. Continue to model working openly in your communities and projects
2. Meet with Abby (30min) once a month for support, encouragement and coaching training
3. Meet with your assigned project leads (30min) every two weeks (you will be assigned 1-2 project leads)
4. Be available as necessary to connect with your assigned project leads to tackle specific issues
5. Attend at least three of the weekly 'Office Hours' (1h) over the 12 week program together with the entire cohort going through the Open Leadership Training Series
6. If possible, attend MozFest (Oct 28-30, London UK) and run a session

Duration

12 weeks
late August 2016 - early November 2016

Time & Commitment

This position will require you to add at least one meeting a week to your schedule. It can be hard to predict specific hours a week, but Abby and the rest of the mentorship network are here to help and support you.

Estimated time: <1h / week for 12 weeks + MozFest
